JUBILEE SONGS

And the Colored Baptist Church at Aiken, South Carolina.

A WHEELING MAN AT A CONCERT

In Which the Plantation Negroe Sing With the True Spirit-A Part of the Past, the Simple Melodies Are Dying Out as Educational Progress is Made-"Brother John's" Congregation.

Special Correspondence of the Intelligen

AIKEN, S. C., April 7 .- A few Sunday's ago I attended the jubilee concert of the Friendship Baptist church of Aiken, S. C., of which the Rev. John G. Phillips is paster. For more than twenty years these concerts have been held. As they say in the programme, "The spiritual or jubilee songs of the colored race are a part of the past: memorials of our former condition and life; expressions of our feelings, and thoughts of our hearts while living in the plantation life; our religious views and dependence on an overruling Providence. While deeply religious in our form and tendancies, as understood by our race, yet under present advancement, and as education is disseminated among us, these songs are fast dyingout and becoming obsolete."

There is a plaintive melody in these old plantation songs that appeals to the religious feelings of these people, and no one can hear them sing—

Gabriel, Gabriel, Gabriel, go and blow your Trumpet,
Loud as seven claps of Thumder,
Loud as seven claps of Thumder,
Loud as seven claps of Thumder,

How loud, how loud, how loud must I blow
My Trumpet?
How loud, how loud, how loud must I blow
My Trumpet?
How loud, how loud, how loud must I blow
My Trumpet?

Loud as seven claps -- Loud as seven claps of Thunder,

Nobody knows de trouble 1 see, Nobody knows but my Jesus. Nobody knows de trouble 1 see— Sing glory Hallelujah: Sometimes-up and sometimes down— Sing glory Hallelujah; Sometimes almost to de ground, Sing glory Hallelujah—with their eyes uplifted, their hands mov with their eyes uplifted, their hands moving from side to side, the body swaying, the foot patting, and the hands keeping time with the music, without feeling that in them it is worship. An instance confirming this opinion occurred a few evening's ago: "Old Aunt Matildy" was singing some of the plantation hynns for the ladies in the house, when one of them asked her to sing "Golden Slippera." She replied "No, no, child—I don't sing nothing but sportual songs."

no, child—I don't sing nothing but speretual songs."

The Rev. Mr. Phillips, or, as he is frequently called by his white ministerial friends, "Brother John," was a plantatien slave. At the close of the war he looked about him to see what could be done to advance the interest of his race. Throwing aside the blandishments of the politician and carpet-bagger, he concluded that good religious instruction was what they needed. Accordingly he set to work, organized a church, obtained a lot with a small building upon it and repaired and enlarged the building till finally they erected quite a large and comortable erected quite a large and comfortable erected quite a large and comfortable house of worship.

While thus working for themselves and their own congregation, they were not unmindful of others, and with true missionary spirit succeeded in organizing about a dozen other churches in neighboring villages. When one considers that but few of these poor people have more than a dollar at one time, it is wonderful that they could have accomplished so much. Last August their church was destroyed by fire. Nothing daunted, they rented a fire. Nothing dounted, they rented a hall and did not allow their services to cease. With their insurance money as a basis, they commenced the erection of a brick church building which is now well on its way to completion. They have a membership of about five hundred.

Brother John" has been the paster all these thirty years, and so faithfully has he discharged his duties that he has not only retained the love of his own congregation, but, notwithstanding the friction caused by carpet bag rule, he has equally earned and enjoyed the respect and affection of the white people.

One of his able lieutenants is Jack Cohen, the express and baggage man at the railroad station here. Jack delivers the baggage and express matter, and while faithful to his duties, he never neglects the claims of his church, and he must be a hardened sinner from whom Jack cannot obtain a small contribution.

When the day of final accounts shall When the day of final accounts shall have arrived and they who have come up through much tribulation stand before the throne, I am sure that "Brother John" will be among the number—his robes made white in the blood of the Lamb; his plantation brogans exchanged for golden slippers; his well worn hat replaced by a starry crown; his hoe-hardened hands belding a harp, and the voice of the Master will say to him: "Well done, good and faithful servant, enter then into the joy faithful servant, enter thou into the joy of thy Lord." The New York Legislature, Regardless of Party, Commends Hills Denunciation of The President's Policy.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 10 .- Assemblyman Ainsworth (Rep.) introduced a joint resolution to-day extending the thanks of the legislature to United States Senaton Hill for what the resolution terms "his masterly arraignment of the foreign policy of the present administration, his exposition of the injuitous income tax feature of the Wilson bill and his denunciation of the un-American leatures of the present tariff legislation."

The resolution was adopted 102 to 3. The assembly stands 76 Republicans, 52 Democrats.

Dr. Brown Guilty.

WOOSTER, OHIO, April 10 .- The trial of Dr. W. B. Brown, the alleged hired assassin of W. A. Mackey, came to an abrupt end to-day. After Mackey had identified Brown and told the story of the dastardly attempt on his life, Brown's attorney, by arrangement with the state's attorney, rested the case. The jury retired and in fitteen minutes returned with a verdict of guilty.

What Will Do It? What Will Do It?

Medical writers claim that the successful remedy for nasal catarrh must be non-irritating, casy of application and one that will reach the remote sores and ulcerated surfaces. The history of the efforts to treat catarrh is proof positive that only one remedy has completely met these conditions and that is Ely's Gream Balm. This safe and pleasant remedy has mastered externed. pleasant remedy has mastered catarrh as nothing else has ever done, and both physicians and patients freely concede this fact. Our druggists keep it.

Bilious Colle Prevented.

Persons who are subject to attacks of bilious colic can almost invariably tell, by their feelings, when to expect an at-tack. If Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrheea Remedy is taken as soon and Diarrhea Remedy is taken as soon as these symptoms appear, they can ward off the disease. Such persons should always keep the Remedy at hand, ready for immediate use when needed. Two or three doses of it at the right time will save them much suffering. For sale by Class R. Goetze, Will W.
